Who are the Master Gardeners?

Master Gardeners are trained volunteers representing Oregon State University Extension home horticulture program. Our goal is to provide researched-based information to Oregonians. Volunteer training classes are conducted January through March each year. After completing course study, volunteers return hours to support the program. For information, contact:

Jordis Yost at 503-650-3118, ext. #0. jordis.yost@oregonstate.edu

In 1985 the Clackamas County Master Gardeners put on the first Spring Garden Fair with a fuchsia sale. Today it is the region's largest kickoff sale for spring planting with over 200 vendors. It takes over 300 Master Gardener volunteers to put this sale on. The proceeds support two horticulture scholarships and an Endowment at Clackamas Community College. We also support OSU Extension, local tri-county Master Gardener Programs and other community projects.
